The 2017 International Conference on Data Mining (DMIN'17)
Application for Student Sponsorship

Please send this application form to student-chair@dmin-2017.international-conference-on-data-mining.com, cc to conference-chair@dmin-2017.international-conference-on-data-mining.com

Important:

A DMIN'17 Student sponsorship includes coverage of the full registration fees for the World Congress in Computer Science, Computer Engineering, and Applied Computing (CSCE'17) enabling participation at The 2017 International Conference on Data Mining (DMIN'17) as well as any other CSCE'17 conference.

Please note that the free registration includes the publication of a single paper at DMIN. If an applicant has two or more accepted papers at DMIN or any other CSCE'17 conference, the standard CSCE publication fee has to be paid for each additional publication. Such fees are under no circumstances covered by a student sponsorship.

Note that the registration fees for the conference have to be paid in advance by the applicant/their organisation and will be refunded at the conference venue. Students must provide appropriate proof of student status (letter confirming status by the head of department, with official letterhead of university).

In addition to free registration, the sponsorship for authors/co-authors of accepted DMIN'17 papers might include free shared accommodation at the conference hotel in a shared room with up to two other students. Please indicate below, whether you would like to apply for a free accommodation sponsorship as well.

Please note that an application has to be submitted by April 14, 2017 (extended deadline) to be considered. Sponsorship decisions, i.e., if your application was accepted and whether you sponsorship includes free registration or free registration and free accommodation, will be distributed by email after the application deadline.

Please consult http://www.dmin-2017.com/funding.htm for details.
